

Cuba Can Quickly Get Rockets Back

A French journalist and author charged here Wednesday night that weapons being removed from Cuba could be returned in 24 hours.

Hilaire du Berrier said Morocco, Tunisia, Algeria and Castro have an alliance which would allow the weapons to be airlifted from Morocco to Cuba via Dakar.

About 200 persons gathered at the Clayton Community Center, 2 Mark Twain Circle, to hear Mr. du Berrier. His appearance was sponsored by the America Wake Up Committee.

Mr. du Berrier charged that the Algerian rebel victory so demoralized the French that a Communist takeover in France is possible. He said one of the primary goals of Soviet policy is to get France out of NATO.

In a talk ranging over a wide number of subjects, Mr. du Berrier accused segments of the United States press of "consistently misinforming" the American public. He said he found it difficult to talk before American audiences because of their misinformed state.

Mr. du Berrier also charged that America's position in the world has been consistently weakened since the end of World War II. He said the yardstick applied for decision-making in Washington is based on "is this the liberal thing to do?" He said the yardstick that should be applied is "does this make sense for America?"

He said there is a campaign afoot to get labor to think in non-nationalist terms. He called it "supra-national, one-world unionism." He accused the AFL-CIO of playing a great part in the international campaign.

Returning to the Algerian revolt, Mr. du Berrier said it was misrepresented by part of the press as a revolt by colonials. He said 90 per cent of the Algerians did not want to revolt from France.
